

2015 Château Plincette Pomerol

Chateau Plincette

Château Plincette Pomerol

Et lille slot i Pomerol, der med sine blot 2 hektar og en produktion på kun 1.000 kasser årligt, må siges at høre blandt de sjældne fund. Det er en utrolig blød og meget karakteristisk Pomerol, med en varm og indbydende bouquet af modne frugter, en anelse appelsin og et markant præg af fadlagring. Smagen har en meget blød og fyldig struktur, hvor den modne frugt harmonerer med de runde tanniner i den flotte, elegante Pomerol-stil. De internationale anmeldere er vilde med årgang 2015 - se blot enkelte af deres udtalelser her: James Suckling: "The 2015 Bordeaux vintage is extraordinary - and you're going to want to get your hands on some en primeur." "The 2015 vintage is an extremely exciting year for Bordeaux, producing wines with exuberant fruit character and plenty of tannin backbone to give them form and tension. They have a unique ripe fruit character that remains cool and fresh. They have a dynamism that make me want to buy some." "There's something in the best wines that remind me of the great wines of the 1980s such as 1982 or 1989 that I tasted from barrel as a young wine critic/journalist. They have a neoclassical style not emphasizing massive concentration or wood but length and balance with strength." Vinous: "Bordeaux enjoyed its strongest vintage in a number of years in 2015." Wine Spectator: "It looks to be the best vintage since 2010. The bad news is ... well, there's not too much bad news, really." Wine Enthusiast: "The 2015 vintage in Bordeaux is very good, and in some specific places, very, very good. It's easily the best vintage since 2010." "All three styles of Bordeaux 2015 wine-reds, dry whites and sweet whites-are a success, which hasn't been the case since 2005."
